Top 10+ (Things Every Lawyer Should Know)

Lawyers are often called on by clients, friends, and family to answer legal questions in areas outside their primary area of practice. It can be challenging to stay up-to-date on the latest trends in various areas of the law in order to provide competent advice. Discover answers to some of the top questions every lawyer should know, including:

- Should I ever refuse to blow?
- I have nothing to hide. Why not tell the police everything?
- I want to buy a condo. What do I need to know?
- I just got fired. Is this severance package “fair”?
- My position has just changed. Have I been constructively dismissed?
- How do I find out about all of our finances and assets?
- We are separating; should I leave the matrimonial home?
- I always planned to retire at 55. Can I still do that when I have child and spousal support obligations?
- I was in a car accident at work. WCB is covering me, but can I still sue the other driver?
- I was in a car accident that wasn't my fault, and the insurance company tells me my claim is capped at $4,900. Should I take it?
- How are tax debts treated in bankruptcy?
- I want to leave someone out of my will. Can I do that?
- Do I have to get Probate?
- When are directors liable for a corporation's source deduction and GST debts?

Engage with experienced lawyers from various areas of the law, including family law, criminal law, wills and estates, employment law, condo and residential tenancy law, debtor and creditor law, and more. Get snapshot answers to frequently asked questions, and discover how seemingly disparate areas of the law may in fact have a common thread.
